Paul

2006-12-20

Hotel is Being Renovated and Will Be Re-Branded a Hilton Garden Inn

Crestline Hotels & Resorts, Inc. today announced the promotion of Gordon Solinger to General Manager for the City Center Hotel St. Paul. The hotel, which was purchased last year by Trinity Hotels Investors, LLC, is undergoing a major renovation and will be re-branded as a Hilton Garden Inn in the second quarter of 2007. Crestline Hotels & Resorts is the management company for the 250 guestroom hotel.

Mr. Solinger served as the hotel's Director of Operations under Crestline's direction since March 2006. He brings more than 10 years of hotel operations experience throughout Minnesota having also held management positions with The Radisson Riverfront Hotel, as well as The Ramada Inn in Bloomington and the Hilton Garden Inn Rochester.

"Gordon has a proven track record with the City Center Hotel St. Paul that shows his commitment to excellence and guest service," said Dave Durbin, President & CEO of Crestline Hotels & Resorts. "We welcome Gordon's experience and leadership to the team as we get ready to reintroduce this important downtown hotel with a new look and a new brand," added Durbin.

Mr. Solinger holds numerous industry designations and is active in the hospitality community. He can be reached at Gordon.solinger@crestlinehotels.com.
