

Condo Hotel Solution Provider OwnerRelations Technology Interfaces With InnQuest RoomMaster
2000
2007-03-22

OwnerRelations Technology delivers Owner Accounting and Owner Web site products for InnQuest Software

OwnerRelations Technology has completed integration of its Owner Accounting and Owner Relations Web site solution with roomMaster 2000, a premier property management system developed and distributed by InnQuest Software.

"This is a great system for us to be working with," said Frank Franchini, president of Owner Relations Technology. "InnQuest Software's support has been excellent, and the company has worked closely with us to ensure we could develop a seamless interface path with its reservation and property management system."

The OwnerRelations software uses the interface with roomMaster 2000 to generate Owner Accounting statements and provide pertinent information to each condo hotel or mixed-use unit owner through a secure, private Owner Web site.

"For organizations in the condo hotel or property management business, owner accounting and owner relationship management are essential to smooth operations," said Franchini. "By developing an interface to InnQuest 2000, condo hotel and property management operators now have a complete solution to meet the very specific requirements of this industry."
