Otherwise Madrid's 'carnaval' offers you traditional parades and a fancy dress competition in early February, a colourful and beautiful event in the Spanish capital. Find a budget priced hostel on <http://www.30madrid.com>.

Need some fun? 'La foire du trône' in Paris, France's largest country fair, proposes to you all its attractions at the Jardins de Vincennes from March to May. The hotel that matches your budget is on <http://www.paris35.com> Rome is also in a festive mood in March with its 'Fiesta di San Giuseppe', the heavily decorated statue of the saint is brought out at a fair with food stalls, concerts and sporting events. Without forgetting the amazing Notting Hill carnival in London with its Caribbean rhythms, dance, food and traditions in the West End.

What about doing something different for Easter? The Pope is gives his blessing from the balcony of St Peter's Basilica, the perfect occasion to visit the cultural side of the Italian capital. Check out availability for Holy Week on <http://www.rome30.com>.

Sport fanatic? In April, the London Marathon is a huge event, a 26 mile course for 30,000 runners. From May to July, Wimbledon Lawn Tennis Championship draws a socially prominent crowd, including royalty and celebrities.

Fancy some music? You'll have many options...The 'Fiesta de San Isidro' in Madrid, the Spanish capital goes wild each may with its rounds of partying, feasting and dancing in the streets. The Summer Festival in Barcelona: theatre, music and dance with an international audience. The 'Fête de la Musique' in Paris, celebration on the summer solstice, the only day that noise laws don't apply in Paris, you might hear anything from Russians playing balalaikas to Cuban mambo rhythms.

Feeling thirsty? Enjoy London's Beer Festival in July, or Paris Beaujolais Nouveau in November!
