

Hyatt Place Development Pace Accelerates in 2007

2008-01-31

86 Projects Increase System to Over 200 Hotels

Hyatt today announced that it approved a total of 86 new Hyatt Place hotels to date. These new projects, which include the first new-build Hyatt Place hotels in New Mexico, Missouri and Ohio, bring the total number of new build Hyatt Place projects open and under development to over 200 hotels.

'Based on the 100+ Hyatt Place hotels currently open and operating, we're confident the combination of comfortable amenities, Hyatt-quality service and adaptability in multiple markets will continue to stimulate demand in a variety of urban and suburban areas,' said Jim Abrahamson, Hyatt's head of development for the Americas. 'Thanks to the success of our hotels we have a substantial advantage over our competitors because developers have been able to experience the brand firsthand and see the concrete and impressive guest satisfaction scores, occupancy levels and ADR.'

Hyatt Place will add the following locations to its portfolio:
