Holiday Inn Boston at Beacon Hill, formerly the Holiday Inn Select Boston Government Center, announces several new value-oriented family packages for the upcoming summer travel season.

The Holiday Inn, located at the foot of Boston's illustrious Beacon Hill, near many of the town's most postcard-worthy attractions, is preparing for Boston's expected surge in tourism during the summer months from May to mid-September. Partnerships with local attractions will be a principal factor in expanding property awareness, including the New England Aquarium and the Boston Museum of Science, which is opening an exciting new baseball exhibit.

'Boston is one of the greatest baseball cities in the nation, and Baseball As America will give visitors of all ages the opportunity to explore the culture and history of the game, and at the same time, discover some of the science and technology behind America's national past time,' said Museum of Science President and Director, Ioannis (Yannis) Miaoulis.

This Boston hotel is offering vacation packages to highlight relationships with these popular attractions, in addition to a weekend Valet Parking package.

'The Holiday Inn brand has always represented value and has a great appeal to families,' said Andy Duymovic, General Manager. 'We are very excited to be teaming up with two of the most popular family attractions in Boston.'

Family-friendly amenities at this hotel in Boston include a seasonal outdoor heated pool with a large sundeck, open from Memorial Day to Labor Day. To save money for traveling families, Holiday Inn allows children 19 and under sharing a room with their parents to stay free. Also, children 12 and under eat free on-site at Foster's Restaurant when dining with their parents.
