

McCormick & Schmick's Seafood Restaurants, Inc. Announces Opening at National Harbor, Maryland
2008-06-17

McCormick & Schmick's Seafood Restaurants, Inc. (Nasdaq: MSSR), today announced the opening of its National Harbor, Maryland, McCormick and Schmick's Seafood Restaurant, further expanding the restaurant operator's significant presence in the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area and bringing its portfolio to 80 restaurants nationwide.

National Harbor is a 300 acre, mixed-use waterfront destination comprised of restaurants, shopping, office and residential space, located in the heart of the Washington, D.C. market. It is also in close proximity to Gaylord National, the largest non-gaming hotel and convention center on the East coast.

'Our National Harbor restaurant is in a very attractive location, allowing us to expand our strong presence in the greater D.C. market,' said Doug Schmick, chairman and CEO of McCormick & Schmick's Seafood Restaurants, Inc. 'National Harbor comprises a diverse target guest base, and includes business travelers, tourists, residents and local business people. We look forward to being a part of this new, dynamic community.'

The National Harbor McCormick & Schmick's is approximately 8,000 square feet and seats an estimated 300 guests, with additional seats on the patio.
