The Holiday Inn London Kensington Forum, one of the preferred hotels in Kensington, London, is making family travel even more satisfying with a duo of affordable dining offers.

Located in the Royal Borough of Kensington, the London lodging is already conveniently located for visiting families to enjoy the most popular sightseeing of the city, and terrific family-friendly dining options round out the experience.

Available to hotel guests only, the 'Family Breakfast Offer' provides a wholesome start to a busy day of visiting famous attractions like Harrods, the Science Museum, Buckingham Palace and Hyde Park. On Saturday and Sunday mornings between 7:30 a.m. - 11:00 a.m., families can enjoy a bountiful buffet breakfast in the on-site Forum Restaurant. All the favorites of a traditional English breakfast such as bacon and eggs are on display with a few surprises as well. Vouchers for this special breakfast are available at reception for £10.50 per person, and children 12 and under eat free with a paying adult.

Sundays get even better with another affordable meal deal. For a limited time, the Kensington lodging is offering visiting and resident families alike a little something extra for less with hearty two-course lunches featuring a choice of entrée from the main menu (some exclusions apply) and a dessert for only £9.95 per person. Vouchers must be presented at the start of the meal. Kids Eat Free(TM) does not apply with this offer.

Delicious dining offers are just a small part of the Holiday Inn commitment to affordable and rewarding family travel. All over the globe, children 19 and under stay free when sharing a parent's room, and children 12 and under eat free off the kid's menu in several territories including the U.S., Canada and participating central London hotels. It's all a part of how Holiday Inn gives you more. And more is better.(TM)
