

Automated Employee Tax Credit Solution Turns HR Department into Profit Center

JobApp Network, Inc. successfully completed a strategic investment with the nation's largest independent tax credit processing company. Through this partnership, JobApp Network is now able to extend the value of its automated hiring solution with fully integrated tax credit screening and processing.

These tax credits can be worth up to $9,000 for a single hire and JobApp clients incur cost only when such credits are delivered.

'Our proven ability to screen job applicants for tax credit eligibility via phone and web and automatically populate the necessary paperwork for new hires will dramatically improve our clients' results with tax credits. Through our new tax credit processing center and compliance management solution we are now able to further improve client results and offer an end-to-end, single-vendor solution,' said Blake Helppie, the Chief Executive Officer of JobApp Network.

JobApp Network's Tax Credit Processing Center has over 10 years of single-minded experience in maximizing Work Opportunity Tax Credits (WOTC) as well as demographic, geographic, and FICA tip credits for employers in the restaurant, retail, distribution and healthcare verticals. JobApp's Tax Credit Processing Center is state-of-the-art and delivers tremendous efficiencies in certifying and calculating complex and labor-intensive tax credits. Without a partner like JobApp, many organizations avoid or overlook these valuable credits, which can also be used to eliminate a company's Alternative Minimum Tax liability.

JobApp Network's standard inclusion of a customized, toll-free telephone-based application process with its web-based talent acquisition solution has proven to be extremely effective in attracting tax credit eligible applicants. Internal studies have shown that tax credit eligible job applicants are significantly more likely than non-tax credit eligible applicants to apply for a job using the phone.
