

Four Points by Sheraton Announces the Opening of Its First Hotel in Northern China

The Four Points by Sheraton Beijing features 355 guestrooms and 177 serviced apartments.

The Four Points in Beijing is ideally located in the heart of Beijing's technology district - Haidian - a 5-10 minute drive away from major government and business organizations, research centers, Zhongguancun Science and Technology Park, and major universities. The Summer Palace, The Great Wall of China, and the Olympic Stadium 'Bird's Nest' are also located close by. Asia Pacific's largest shopping mall, Golden Resources, is within walking distance with more than 1,000 shops, restaurants and movie theaters.

'The heightened demand for Four Points by Sheraton throughout Asia Pacific has played a key role in driving the brand's phenomenal international expansion,' said Sandy Swider, Vice President, Four Points by Sheraton. 'The atmosphere at Four Points by Sheraton helps guests both work and relax and our Simple Pleasures make them feel special. We are thrilled that the brand's first hotel in Beijing has opened its doors just in time for the Olympics.'

The centerpiece of the hotel's spacious guest rooms is the Four Points by Sheraton Four Comfort Bed, a fresh, clean ensemble including a plush mattress, assortment of pillows, and light-colored duvet. All guestrooms feature a 32-inch flat screen television and high-speed Internet access. Guests can recharge in one of the hotels restaurants, including an all-day dining venue, an Italian restaurant, and a Chinese restaurant featuring Cantonese and regional specialties. For some fun and recreation, the hotel features an indoor swimming pool, fitness center, full service spa and beautiful roof garden offering city views. The hotel also features meeting and banquet space that can accommodate groups of up to 850 people.
