2008-09-30

Hotel Lisboa Plaza has created a terrace with a privileged view of Lisbon city that promises to impress because of its sunny and contemporary environment.

With the aim of keeping up-to-date the Hotel Lisboa Plaza, an ARTEH(R) Hotel in Lisbon, continues to renovate its public areas, by creating small spaces with inviting environments, allowing the guests to choose the area and environment they desire at the moment.

On the hottest days, there is nothing better than being out in the open with a view over Avenida da Liberdade and Jardim Botânico.

The new space, which has benefited from the collaboration of Atelier Graça Viterbo, gives the hotel a practical, comfortable, and fresh environment, so that the guests can enjoy the sun on hot days and watch the huge avenue and its lights at night.

About Hotel Lisboa Plaza

Located next to the cosmopolitan Avenida da Liberdade, its eyes set on the Botanical Gardens, is the classical Hotel Lisboa Plaza, an icon of hospitality and heritage in the city of Lisbon.

Inaugurated in 1954 as the Hotel Condestável, its history is linked to the unforgettable and attractive Parque Mayer, the stage for entertainment in a Lisbon of yore that contributed to this avenue being internationally recognized.

The increase in the number of tourists visiting its cafés, theatres, and 'casas de fado', motivated the construction of this high quality hotel. Lucínio Cruz was in charge of the architectural project and strove to promote the modernity and wellbeing of the guests in an innovative fashion.

The façade is austere with an international style. The enveloping spaces are full of charm and comfort thanks to the classical design conceived by Graça Viterbo and the attention given to all the details. The hotel maintains its character, harmoniously combining the tradition of its history with the demands of modern times in a spirit of great versatility.

The Hotel Lisboa Plaza is the ideal harbour to return to for a rest in its comforting rooms, and to experience its family atmosphere after uncovering the city's well-kept secrets.
